Product Description

Headphones and chargers protector main product was the squiggly wiggles' so we can twist them into the cord. There going to be different colors for the strings. The string is light but if we combine the string and the cord which makes it heavier but its going to help stay away from rumble and the cord breaking.

Innovation

We started to thinking about this product because I have mind as headphones and chargers protector. I saw people use it for their headphone and charger in Vietnam so I just think it's a good product to sell. We brought the string from a friend of mine and put it in the cords.

Finances

48*4=192 strings

Competitive Advantage

We have advantage over other companies because there's nothing like it out there and it's really cheap.
